

Thank you for being part of the Journey! I just want to go over a few ground rules as we move forward.

First and foremost, EVERYTHING that happens in our meetings is ABSOLUTELY confidential. Even, seemingly, insignificant things are NOT to be shared. You will realize that I share my secrets with my friends and I have insight into other healing ministries, etc. (re: Elijah House, Sugar Hill UMC, etc.) that I often talk about or am in relationships with. Those highlights are sacred for our group and this type of ministry so please don't share those with others.

Most importantly, I share (and for your complete participation) you will also share things that are going on with you personally that are restricted to the folks in our group. Whether we are in a meeting OR small group OR your prayer ministry sessions, those things are NOT to be shared.

I DO, however, reserve the right to ask/answer questions, give direction, offer insight/direction regarding your prayer ministry time with each other and others. So, please know that you AND your partners have every right to consult with me regarding sessions as we move forward in this healing process. I also reserve the right to follow up in questions/suggestions with each of you following sessions/events, etc.

Our ultimate goal is to learn how to minister to others in a way that honors and offers healing, so whatever we need to do to make that happen we need to be open and vulnerable to the process (s).

I, _____, understand that I am being given an incredible privilege of walking into the hurts/healings of those I am partnered with in this season of CIH. I realize that it is of the utmost importance in building trust to guard the information that I hear, see, witness, and am a party of, while I am participating in relationships with CIH, others on the team and anyone that we minister to. I commit to honor and guard any info shared during meetings, prayer ministry, small groups, teachings, trainings, testimonies, retreats, seminars, etc. I realize a breach of this agreement would mean I can no longer participate in CIH.

God bless,
Kerri
